

Śiva Arati

Om jaya Gaṅgādhara Hara Śiva jaya Girijādhīśa
Śiva jaya Gaurī-nātha;
Tvaṁ māṁ pālaya nityam
Tvaṁ māṁ pālaya Śambho,
Kṛpayā Jagadīśa.
Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

Glory to Hara, Bearer of the Ganges. Glory to Shiva, Lord of Girija and Gauri. By your grace, Lord of the World, protect me forever.

1. Kailāse giri-śikhare kalpadruma-vipine
Śiva kalpadruma-vipine;
Guñjati madhukara-puñje (2x)
Kuñjavane gahane.
Kokila kūjati khelati hamsāvali-lalitā,
Śiva hamsāvali-lalitā;
Rachayati kalā-kalāpam (2x)
Nr̥tyati muda-sahitā.
Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

On Mount Kailas is a forest of wish-fulfilling trees, bees that make a sweet humming sound, cukoos sing and beautiful swans sport there. Peacocks spread their plumes and dance with joy.

2. Tasmillalita-sudeśe śālā maṇi-rachitā,
Śiva śālā maṇi-rachitā,
Tanmadhye Hara-nikaṭe (2x)
Gaurī muda-sahitā.
Krīḍām rachayati bhūṣām rañjita-nijamīśam
Śiva rañjita-nijamīśam;
Indrādika-sura-sevita
Brahmādika-sura-sevita,
Praṇamati te śīrṣam.
Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

In that pleasant spot is a mansion bedecked with precious stones. There, Gauri plays near Hara (Shiva), and pleases her Lord with her adornments.

3. Vibudha-vadhūr-bahu nr̥tyati hṛdaye muda-sahitā,
    Śiva hṛdaye muda-sahitā;
    Kinnara gānam kurute (2x)
        Sapta-svara-sahitā.
    Dhinakata thai thai
    Dhinakata mṛdaṅga vādayate
        Śiva mṛdaṅga vādayate;
    Kvaṇa kvaṇa lalitā veṇuh (2x)
        Madhuram nādayate.
    Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

The wives of the Gods dance there, their hearts filled with joy. The celestial musicians sing melodies, the drums and flute produce sweet sounds.

4. Runu runu charaṇe racayati Nūpuram-ujjvalitam
    Śiva Nūpuram-ujjvalitam;
    Chakrāvarte bhramayati (2x)
        Kurute tām dhik-tām.
Tām tām lupa chupa tālam nādayate
    Śiva tālam nādayate;
    Aṅguṣṭhāṅguli-nādām (2x)
        Lāsyakatām kurute.
Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

The shining anklets with small bells make a jingling sound, the damsels, forming circles, sing and dance making sweet sounds with the clapping of their hands and snapping of the thumb and middle fingers.

5. Karpūra-dyuti-gauram Pañchānana-sahitam;
     Śiva Pañchānana-sahitam;
     Trinayana-Śāśidhara-Maulīḥ (2x)
         viṣadhara-kaṇṭha-yutam.
     Sundara-jaṭā-kalāpam pāvaka-yuta-bhālam
         Śiva pāvakayuta-bhālam;
     Ḍamaru-triśūla-pinākam (2x)
         Karadhrta-nṛkapālam.
     Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

O Shiva, You have the luster of shining camphor. You have five heads, three eyes, and the moon on Your crest. You have a serpent round Your neck. You have beautiful braided hair on Your head. Your forehead is adorned with fire. You hold the damaru (small drum), the trident, and the bow pinaka. You hold a human skull in Your hand.

6. Šaṅkha-ninādāṁ kṛtvā jhallari nādayate
 Šiva jhallari nādayate;
 Nīrājayate Brahmā
 Nīrājayate Viṣṇur-
 Veda-ṛchāṁ paṭhate.
 Iti mṛdu-charaṇa-sarojam hṛtkamale dhṛtvā
 Šiva hṛtkamale dhṛtvā;
 Avalokayati Maheśāṁ
 Śivalokayati Sureśāṁ
 Īśam-abhinatvā.
 Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

The conch shell is blown; the metallic drum resounds. Brahma and Vishnu are waving lights and reciting the Vedic hymns before You. Thus having hailed His soft lotus feet and having bowed down to the Lord, one gazes steadily at the great God and at the Lord of gods with beneficence.

7. Rundai rachayati mālāṁ pannagam-upavītāṁ
 Šiva pannagam-upavītāṁ;
 Vāma-vibhāge Girijā
 Vāma-vibhāge Gaurī
 Rūpam atilalitam.
 Sundara-sakala-śarire kṛta-bhasmā-bharaṇāṁ
 Šiva kṛta-bhasmā-bharaṇāṁ;
 Iti Vṛṣabha-dhvaja-rūpam
 Hara-Šiva-śaṅkara rūpām,
 Tāpa-traya-haraṇām.
 Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

You adorn Yourself with a garland of skulls and wear a serpent as the sacred thread. Parvati is at Your left side. Your form is very beautiful. Your whole body is smeared with ashes. You have a bull in your banner. O Hara, the beneficial Bestower of bliss! You remove all miseries.

8. Dhyānam ārati samaye hr̥daye iti kṛtvā,
 Šiva hr̥daye iti kṛtvā;
 Rāmāṁ trijaṭā-nāthāṁ (2x)
 Īśam-abhinatvā.
 Saṅgītamevaṁ pratidina paṭhanām yaḥ kurute
 Šiva paṭhanām yaḥ kurute;
 Šiva-sāyujyāṁ gacchati
 Hara- sāyujyāṁ gacchati
 Bhaktyā yaḥ śṛṇute.
 Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

We meditate upon You, who sport in the hearts of devotees and who are the Lord of Trijata. We bow down to you the Lord. One who daily recites this song and one who hears it with devotion attains oneness with Shiva.

Om jaya Gaṅgādhara Hara Śiva jaya Girijādhīśa
Śiva jaya Gaurī-nātha;
Tvam mām pālaya nityam
Tvam mām pālaya Śambho,
Kṛpayā Jagadīśa.
Om Hara Hara Hara Mahādev.

Glory to Hara, the Bearer of the Ganges. Glory to Shiva, the Lord of Girija. Glory to Shiva, the Lord of Gauri. By your mercy O Lord of the world, protect me forever.